

Terms and conditions

- If you are aged 16 or under, please ask an adult to submit your photo and provide their contact details.
- Photographs must be your own and not copied or reproduced from elsewhere, that they do not infringe the copyright, other rights of any third party, any laws or have won a prize in any other photographic competition.
- We can only accept photos taken within Norfolk- winning images may be asked for proof of location.
- There are no confines on when the image was taken.
- Animal welfare comes first - entrants shown to have upset or disturbed wildlife to take a photo will be rejected from this competition.
- Photos taken of people, captive animals, distressed wildlife and pets will be rejected.
- All entries must be an accurate representation of what the photographer saw at the time. Any extreme digital manipulation will be rejected at the judge's discretion. Winners may be asked to provide the original, unedited image file.
- Please do not submit large numbers of photos of the same subject – select a maximum of three images. Don't be put off sending an image though – we are seeking interesting and thought-provoking images not necessarily high quality or 'professional looking' ones.
- Please upload as hi-res versions of your photos as your internet connection will allow (up to a 4MB size limit and won't accept RAW files).
- As well as possibly featuring in NWT's online photo gallery your photos may also help to publicise our conservation work – for instance, we might feature them in our promotional leaflets, on social media or in our Tern magazine, or perhaps even include them as part of a resource pack that we send to the media to promote our stories. We will endeavour to make sure that you are credited as the photographer.
- By submitting a photograph to the competition, you understand that Norfolk Wildlife Trust reserves the right to use any image submitted to help the conservation of Norfolk's wildlife. Photos will be credited, and will not be sold to third parties, but no payment will be made for any current or future use by Norfolk Wildlife Trust of images submitted to the competition.

We want to take good care of your information!

We will keep your details secure at all times. We never sell or share your details with any other third party for their own use. We will contact you if you win our prize draw, but unless you are an NWT member, you will not receive any further information from us as a result of providing your details today. This is our summarised privacy notice. For our full privacy policy click here or contact us for a postal copy.
